YOU CAN BE SURE

Hobby Farms and Ranches can present a unique set of coverage challenges not encountered on standard homeowners risks. With homes on acreages, livestock or clients selling eggs, vegetables and cut flowers at farmers' markets an increased liability exposure can exist. Higher limits of coverage are also often needed for Outbuildings and Equipment.

High allowances for acreage, revenue and livestock count means Cansure can entertain virtually all types of Hobby Farms and Ranches. Whether your client has chickens, cows or llamas, a market garden or grazing land we will work to custom tailor coverage solutions, designed to fit each individual circumstance.

Cansure is also able to consider risks falling into the "non-standard" category, including vacant and idle risks, properties on leased land and those with multiple dwellings on the same site.
